Technical reasons and scientific justifications why additional resources are needed

The project is linked to the simulation for the Horizon Europe project MAGDA (<https://cordis.europa.eu/project/id/101082189>), which will end in April 2025. The current special project effectively started in June 2023, so at least part of 2025 will be useful for finalizing the simulations until the end of the project.
